Polish Tech Day in London is one of the most prestigious events about Polish new technologies outside of Poland. Its main goal is to foster bilateral relations between the Polish and British technology sectors.

The second edition of this conference creates unique opportunities to meet with some of the hottest start-ups and investors from both countries, as well as with Polish companies interested in establishing themselves in the UK or British companies interested in partnering with or investing in the Polish technology sector. This is also a fabulous opportunity to extend your business reach and become part of the PLUG community of Polish expatriates in technology. This evening event takes place during the London Technology Week and is an excellent opportunity for quality business and technology networking.
